DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it contains legal phraseology often used in patent claims, “comprising” in line 3. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1, lines 4-5, “at least one reinforcing wire or armoring wire” is unclear to how this at least one relates to the at least one reinforcing wire or armoring wire recited in lines 2-3.

Claim 2, lines 2-3, “at least one layer of armoring” is unclear to how this relates to one or more layers of wires recited in claim 1.

Claim 3, lines 2-3, “at least one reinforcing wire or armoring wire” is unclear to how this at least one relates to the at least one reinforcing wire or armoring wire recited in claim 1.

Claim 3, line 4, “NUOVINOW” should be changed to --NUOVINOX--.

Art Unit: 2831

Claim 3, line 4; and Claim 5, line 4 contain the trademark/trade name NUOVINOX.

Where a trademark or trade name is used in a claim as a limitation to identify or describe a particular material or product, the claim does not comply with the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph. See Ex parte Simpson, 218 USPQ 1020 (Bd. App. 1982). The claim scope is uncertain since the trademark or trade name cannot be used properly to identify any particular material or product. A trademark or trade name is used to identify a source of goods, and not the goods themselves. Thus, a trademark or trade name does not identify or describe the goods associated with the trademark or trade name. In the present case, the trademark/trade name is used to identify/describe a composite steel wire or tube and, accordingly, the identification/description is indefinite.

Claim 4 recites “in which a tube is provided”, however the position of the tube in the cable is unclear.

Claim 5, line 2, “a tube” is unclear to how this relates to the tube recited in claim 4.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2831

5. Claims 1, 2 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Marlier et al. (5,125,062) in view of Kazuya (JP 1-276507).

Marlier et al. discloses a telecommunication cable that is structurally reinforced by incorporating at least one reinforcing wire or armoring having one or more layers of wires, the cable including at least one reinforcing wire or armoring wire which has a core (4,5) of steel (claim 1). Marlier et al. also discloses a tube (1) being provided in the cable and the tube being made of steel (claim 4). Marlier et al. does not disclose the steel core or sheet being covered by a layer of stainless steel to form a composite steel core or sheet (claims 1, 2 and 4).

Kazuya discloses a composite steel wire in which a steel core is covered by a layer of stainless steel (4). It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to cover the steel core and the steel sheet of Marlier et al. with a stainless steel layer to protect the wire from lightning strike as taught by Kazuya.

6. Claims 3 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Marlier et al. in view of Kazuya as applied to claims 1 and 4 above, and further in view of Applicant's own disclosure (page 4, lines 7-16).

Re claims 3 and 5, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to use the composite steel material sold under the registered trademark NUOVINOX for the wire and the tube of the Marlier et al. cable since this material is commercially available and can be drawn into a wire or a tube. In the case of a wire form, the wire can be used as reinforcing wires or armoring wires as disclosed by the applicant (page 4, lines 7-16).

Cited Art

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Rafie et al. discloses cables comprising armoring wires.
